TriMet said the loss of wheelchairs and scooters will not inconvenience TriMet bus or MAX riders or slow down buses or trains. The TriMet police probe into the theft of 250 scooters and wheelchairs owned by handicapped riders prompted officials to warn would-be riders to check with TriMet before riding, and to keep personal valuables in their possession at all times. The transit agency said that wheelchairs and scooters from the van in Beaverton will be replaced as soon as possible, but that they are not generally available for rental. "What we want to do is get these people back on their wheels as soon as possible," said Traci Delbridge, a spokeswoman for TriMet. Police said that approximately 250 scooters and wheelchairs were stolen
